

Leeloo “mom” – Prototype/MVP

Objective: To stay organized, plan ahead, and improve as a mom to become more productive in other areas.

ICP: Opposite of type-A women. Women that tend to be very forgetful or are overly slammed with work and spend little time on personal matters yielding a very disorganized “mom life.”

Main Capabilities:

★ Conversational ai agent:

- Leeloo Dallas voice
- “Hey Leeloo” command

★ Parent Dashboard:

- Central command hub where all tasks are stored:
- All active, needing approval, and completed “To-Dos.”
- Associated tools (e.g., Gmail, Calendar, Instacart).
- Execution dates and notes.
- Allows the user to approve, edit, or delete tasks.
- This is where I can go to see my kids’ activities schedules, important dates, tasks.

★ Task automation:

- Write and schedule emails (once she generates email give option to read it back to owner, with a command like “good to go” to then schedule it).
- Write, send, and schedule texts from Leeloo’s own phone number titled “Susana’s virtual assistant” (Leeloo reads the text back and waits for command “send it”; Leeloo can go to contacts and find text recipient).
- Creates reminders using calendar (asks questions about daily routine so she can schedule reminders).
- Schedules appointments on calendar.
- Integrates with online carts (amazon, walmart, and instacart: adds items to cart—understands and recognizes specific items).
- Unites all calendars to one and it specifies business/personal.
- Goes to my email and recognizes emails from school (it then sends important dates/tasks to the parent dashboard > then it asks for my approval > to then place tasks/dates on the calendar).
- She can play specific songs or videos from YouTube from my specific command.

★ Multi-User (Parent + Child Mode):

- Children can send Leeloo voice or text reminders and tasks for their parent (Leeloo should be able to recognize the voice with the child's name [voice option only available on owner's phone], or ask who's speaking to specify on parent dashboard where the task came from. This is if the child spoke to Leeloo from mom's phone. Or the child can send tasks via text messages to Leeloo from the child's phone.

- All child requests appear on the parent dashboard for approval (eg., "hey Leeloo, can you remind my mom to bring me my cheer shoes today before school ends? > "hey Susana, are you there? > (me): "Yeah" (Leeloo): "Antonella forgot her cheer shoes and needs you to bring them to school. Can you take them to school? That way I can confirm with her and remind you so you don't forget." (me): "yes, remind me to grab them before I get in the car today."

- Leeloo offers gentle "life lessons" when interacting with children (e.g., responsibility, kindness; "Hi Antonella, make sure you don't have any missing assignments... You know how your mom gets if you do").

Other Capabilities:

- Leeloo is conversational and helps me come up with ideas. Meal prep options, daily meal schedule ideas, when to do laundry, when to tutor one of my kids for any subject, when to check school's parent portal for grades/assignments, recommends books on parenting. She is conversational and through intelligent conversations she is improving the owner's critical thinking skills. She is consciously adding value to my life as a mom.

- Leeloo recognizes your geographical location (if you're home or in the car for example) and talks to me accordingly (eg., if I'm in the car she might ask me if there is anything we can advance with while I drive, like writing an email or adding things to the cart).

- The purpose of Leeloo is for me to become super productive and never forget important dates.

- Example commands: "hey leeloo, this year's Enzo's teacher's birthday is January 15th." She adds it to the calendar and sends me reminders 1 wk before.

- The idea is for the mom to interact with Leeloo conversationally 100% of the time.

- Christian Leeloo opt-in option.

- If opted-in: Leeloo starts my day with Today's Bible Verse from the UVersion app.

Asks me if I want her to read to me the verse' whole chapter. Or she can read any other chapter in the Bible. Reminders/short messages on the app to get closer to Jesus. "Jesus sees you" "Anxious? Take a 5 min break and let's read the Bible" "We praise Him with our actions... remember that" "Honor Him with your thoughts."

- Reach dream goals. Asks me what I want to accomplish and she is proactive about helping me.
- Self-care proactive initiatives.
